
(a) different drivers: the affine curve is the controlled mechanism test, the MLP curve the round-3 protocol, on the same 20 training and 20 held-out frames; the reference lines are shared.
(b) one driver throughout; colour there encodes the METRIC, not the map, and the aligned curve is identical under either flux convention by construction.